Budget Process Moves Ahead with Tax Reforms

Lieutenant Governor Casts Tie-Breaking Vote on HB 4361

This week was a newsworthy one here at the Capitol. The Senate, with a necessary tie-breaking vote by Lieutenant Governor Brian Calley, passed House Bill 4361, the legislation that makes a number of reforms to Michigan's business and income taxes.

The bill contained a number of provisions, with the business and pension tax receiving the most attention. The bill passed by the Senate contained $1 billion in tax relief for small businesses by repealing the Michigan Business Tax and replacing it with a six percent income tax on C-corporations. The other major component, which will raise $300 million in revenue, was the changes to the income tax exemptions on certain types of retirement and pension income. Under current law, only private pensions and unmatched income on 401(k) plans over $45,120 for an individual or $90,240 for a couple are taxed. For a detailed look at these changes, click on Pension Chart, which was developed by Senator Bruce Caswell.

This Monday, the Consensus Revenue Estimating conference will be held. It is predicted that for FY 2012 there will be a surplus of $500-$600 million. With these estimates, Coalition staff expects House and Senate leadership to set revenue targets with conference committees to meet soon after. Will the Legislature have a budget in place by Governor Snyder proposed May 31st deadline? The Coalition will continue to keep you updated.

2011 Check-Up on Oral Health: A County Profile Useful Tool in Advocacy and Grantwriting

Oral health is essential to overall health and quality of life. Left untreated, dental diseases can result in infection and severe pain, an inability to perform daily activities, and in very rare cases, death. In 2008, more than 1,000 Michigan residents were hospitalized due to emergency conditions related to the teeth and jaw—all of these considered avoidable hospitalizations.

The "2011 Michigan Check-Up on Oral Health: A Michigan County Profile" outlines key economic and oral health indicators for each Michigan county. The Report covers the demographics of each county's population, dental providers and the dramatic need of the uninsured and Medicaid enrollees. To order a book for $28, click here.

Encouraging College, Oral Health Careers U of M Program Brings Dental Faculty and High School Students Together

"We're planting seeds early, when they are freshmen and sophomores in high school, to get students thinking that going to college is something they can do, that it's not an impossible dream," said Dr. Marita Inglehart, associate professor of dentistry, as she talked about her visits to several Michigan high schools as part of a new University of Michigan program that encourages adolescents to consider and ultimately pursue higher education. If early responses are any indication, some students have expressed a desire to become oral health professionals.

The program, Wolverine Express, features U of M faculty, staff and students traveling to Saginaw, Jackson, Pontiac, Battle Creek, Benton Harbor, Muskegon, and Grand Rapids who talk to students from disadvantaged backgrounds about the benefits of higher education. Launched last fall by U of M's Center for Educational Outreach, participants in Wolverine Express work with high school principals, counselors, and teachers encouraging them to emphasize to students what they need to do in high school to prepare for college. For more information, see Encouraging College.

New Arkansas Law Requires Fluoridation

In Water Systems Serving more than 5,000

The Arkansas Governor Mike Beebe signed a community water fluoridation bill into law March 4, which will bring its proven health benefits to more than 148,000 Arkansas residents. The law expands community water fluoridation to all Arkansas communities with at least 5,000 residents. The Delta Dental Foundation in Arkansas has committed to funding the equipment/capital costs that communities would otherwise incur to begin fluoridating.

The Michigan Oral Health Coalition's mission is to improve oral health in Michigan by focusing on prevention, health promotion, oral health data, access and the link between oral health and overall health.
